Letter Five

A Few Places You Might Enjoy Starting

By now you've probably figured out that I write about a little bit of everything.

History. Family. Military stories. Humor. Life's strange twists and turns. And occasionally whatever happens to wander through my mind that day.

If you're new around here, I thought I'd point you toward a few places you might enjoy starting — American history, family stories, humor, and military history all have their own corner of the site.

And if you're still not sure what you enjoy, don't worry.

I've been writing for decades and I'm still trying to figure that out myself.

The good news is that there are plenty of stories to choose from.

Take a look around and see what catches your interest.

You may find something that makes you laugh.

You may find something that teaches you something.

You may even find something that reminds you of a memory you'd forgotten.

Those are usually my favorites.

Your Friend,
H.D. Ingles

P.S. If one of the stories reminds you of your own experience, feel free to leave a comment. I enjoy hearing your stories almost as much as I enjoy telling mine.
